Northeast Student's are 'Falling' into good habits!

Practice makes Perfect

- Keeping to a routine helps students develop self-discipline they will need to be successful throughout their school career. Our teachers work hard to solidify good study habits, as well as positive behaviors. By creating a evening routine at home you can continue this process. Try setting a time for homework evening that fits your families schedule. Also, consistent bed times and hygiene routines will help students be ready to learn when they get to school. Thank you for your efforts in helping Northeast schools a great place to learn!
